Successful Projects Announces Distributorship Agreement with GEM Services

La Crosse, Wisconsin (Dec. 16, 2009) Successful Projects has signed a distributor agreement with Ottawa, Ontario, Canada based GEM Services, a Project Management Consulting and Training firm. GEM Services was founded in 2001 by Gary Scherling, PMP, Prince2 Practitioner, who has contributed to the PMI Program and Portfolio Standards 2003 editions, has presented at the PMI OVOC symposiums, and has over 30 years of experience in a variety of challenging senior roles in Project Management, PMO's, Business Models and Process Management. Gary Scherling is also the founder of the Eastern Ontario PMO Local Interest Group.

GEM Service's mission is to deliver projects through the practical application of both the Project Management Institute PM Body of Knowledge, the Prince2 methodology and years of experiences of running multiple projects; mentoring and training individuals and organizations in the proper application and tailoring of both Project, Program and Portfolio Management processes; and improving the overall efficiency and effectiveness of organizations through cross-functional business modeling. For more information about GEM Services, contact Gary Scherling at 613-258-6876 or via email at G.Scherling@Sympatico.ca

Kay Wais, Successful Projects founder and owner, is very pleased to have GEM Services representing her company and products, saying “Gary’s vast experience with Federal Canadian government agencies and projects, PMOs, PMI involvement, and expertise in business modeling is likely to bring valuable perspectives to our product development and also expand the Successful Projects distribution greatly in Canada.”

Successful Projects creates and distributes project management related products worldwide. Successful Projects was founded in 2001 by Kay Wais with the intention of helping people improve their project management proficiency. Kay, who is PMP-certified and holds her Masters in Project Management, has trained hundreds of people in project management principles and has helped many achieve their PMP certification. Today, Successful Projects serves many large and small business clients as well as several colleges and universities providing project management training, instruction, and coaching to students as well as training products and learning activities for project management instructors.
